

SPRINGFIELD
MASSACHUSETTS
PRODUCT

MAY 8 1961

THE GORGE, WEST CHESTERFIELD
A place of gorgeous scenery that offers splendid possibilities for power development; on the left is the pier of an old Revolutionary bridge

WESTERN NEW ENGLAND

2006a-053

JANUARY

VOL. 2 1912 No. 1

$1.50 per year ∴ 15 cents per copy
Worthington Historical Society, Inc.
Worthington, Mass.

Published in the Interests of
PROGRESS—PROSPERITY—PUBLICITY

ISSUED MONTHLY

WESTERN NEW ENGLAND

Published monthly by the Springfield Board of Trade in the interests of Progress, Prosperity and Publicity for Western New England. Subscription price, yearly, $1.50; single copy, 15 cts. Advertising rates on application. The front cover and reading matter space are not for sale and cannot be bought.

EMMETT HAY NAYLOR, Editor-in-Chief

C. HOWARD BOSWORTH, Advertising Manager

FRANK P. FOGG, Managing Editor

Copyright 1911 by the Springfield Board of Trade, Springfield, Mass.

Entered as second-class mail matter May 26, 1911, at the post office at Springfield, Massachusetts, under the act of March 3, 1879.

CONTENTS

Salvation by Trolley —By SYLVESTER BAXTER The reclamation of fruitful lands and development of industries only need adequate facilities for transportation . . . . . Specially illustrated by Dean's photographs	1
Editorial Notes
The Editor's Resignation . . . . .	11
A Vital and Successful Year . . . . .	11
Working for Efficiency . . . . .	11
As to Industries . . . . .	11
Projecting and Protecting . . . . .	11
Enterprises and Investments . . . . .	12
Other Committee Work . . . . .	12
Large Field of Activity . . . . .	12
Ideals and Efficiency . . . . .	12
A Hardware Number for February . . . . .	12
Rich Resources Isolated —By HERMAN G. PATT When ample transportation is supplied, the now almost remote interior towns will be quickened wonderfully . . . . . A statistical table appended. Illustrated with village and pastoral scenes	13
The Hope of the Hill Towns —By JOHN DAYTON WILLARD Where trolley extension will reveal opportunities of soil, natural scenery and cheap water power . . . . . Illustrated with characteristic scenes	23
Specialists in Efficiency The men and methods which have aided business interests by suggesting regulation and supplying a system . . . . .	31
Fine Product of a Pioneer Family The new seven-passenger touring car provides comfort without danger of disproportion between load and power . . . . .	34
Where Autos are Rebuilt A new business enterprise that has no near-by competitor . . . . .	35
Moody's Financial Guide for 1912 Containing important and latest information regarding stocks, bonds and banking securities . . . . .	35
First in New England The "Extension School" of the Massachusetts Agricultural College and its recent session in West Brookfield . . . . .	36
The Need for Transportation —By L. S. STORRS Land that is bearing weeds and brush will be made fruitful after trolley line extension . . . . .	37
Grocers and Butchers Organize To promote co-operation and better fellowship . . . . .	38
What Brattleboro Did Citizens raise $120,000 in less than three weeks towards a new industry . . . . .	39
Map of Present and Proposed Trolley Lines in Central and Western Massachusetts (In two colors) . . . . .	41
Latest Editorial The Boston & Albany's Courteous Treatment . . . . .	42

Upbuilding the Berkshires

What the Berkshire Street Railway Aims to Do

To build up the Berkshires is the primary purpose of the Berkshire Street Railway.

Its own growth and prosperity depend upon the growth and prosperity of the region it serves.

To promote these ends the company has far-reaching plans for development.

Its newly planned lines will reach into places hitherto inaccessible.

These extensions will help lift the countryside to greater prosperity. All this means

New Life, New Blood, New Industries

and stirring activities in many places where stagnation now rules.

The railway intends to make better known to the outside world the attractions of this hill country—what a paradise it is for recreation seekers and summer dwellers.

The Berkshire Hills are one great pleasure park—a region of inspiring scenery with exceptional means for reaching it.

Fares are reasonable. High-class construction and equipment make travel on the Berkshire Street Railway comfortable and expeditious.

Every mile of the way brings fresh delight. River and hill make constant variety. You traverse a country where civilization and the wilderness alternate in pleasing succession.

All through an eight months' season you have a round of delightful excursions to places of scenic charm and historic interest.

Besides the regular service, a limited electric express traverses Massachusetts twice daily between Canaan, Conn. and Bennington, Vt., in the summer months

---

The Berkshire Street Railway