SERVICE NOTES

Rev. Benson Harvey and Rev. Alva Rhines are both retired ministers, who belong to the South Worthington Church Association, as does Mr. Royce Granger, who is moderator of the association.

Rev. Jerome Wood is pastor of the Worthington Congregational Church and Mrs. Dorothy Taylor is its organist.

Miss Jane Tuttle is the granddaughter of Russell H. Conwell and daughter of Nima Conwell Tuttle who wrote the music for the Russell H. Conwell Prayer, the words of which are Russell Conwell's own.

Mr. Robert Schrade is an accomplished concert pianist who has given concerts in Carnegie Hall, New York and also in many other cities in this country and abroad. He and his family are summer residents of South Worthington.

Mr. Lawrence Wikander, who is now librarian of Forbes Library, became interested in Conwell lore when he was assistant librarian at Temple University. His interest was heightened when he bought a summer place in Worthington and visited Conwell's birthplace.

Mr. Fred Sears was a resident of Worthington many years ago. He is a maker of violins and is playing one of his own today.

Edith Hathaway and her daughter Charlotte are both fine soloists who were born and brought up in Worthington. Charlotte now teaches music in Cape Canaveral City, Florida.
