Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers Lamkin of Waverly, with Mr. and Mrs. Stearns and their small daughter, Barbara, are guests at "Alderbest" for a fortnight. Mr. Lamkin's fine tenor voice was heard in the solo, "Just for Today," at the morning service on Sunday and he also was one of the quintet with Harry Bates, Misses Elizabeth Hewitt, Bartlett and Fitzroy, who rendered "There Is No Nostalgia There," favorite song of Dr. Russell H. Conwell, in whose memory it was chosen.

Church Has Annual Meeting

On Sunday, Jan. 8, the Worthington Congregational church held its annual business meeting. The following officers were elected: Clerk, Mrs. James H. Burckes; treasurer, Mrs. Eugene Stevens; assistant treasurer, Miss Bessie A. F. Ames; church school superintendent, Rev. James H. Burckes; assistant church school superintendent for West Worthington, Mrs. Ernest Thayer; member of church committee, Miss Susan T. Rice; deacon, Clyde Jones; auditor, Mrs. Franklin Burr; member of the missionary committee, Miss Katherine McD. Rice; organist, Arthur G. Capen; music committee, Mrs. Leland Cole, Miss N. S. Heacock, Mrs. Nima Conwell Tuttle, Arthur G. Capen; flower committee, Miss Josephine Hewitt; relief committee, Mrs. Horace Cole, Miss Elsie V. Bartlett, Mrs. Jas. H. Burckes; soc' l committee, Mrs. Charles Kilbourn, Mrs. Horace Cole, Mrs. Eben Shaw. Revised constitution and by-laws were adopted. A vote was taken in favor of making the special service at the little church of Russell Conwell's boyhood, in South Worthington, an annual event. Last summer the Worthington Congregational church gave up its own morning worship to help the smaller body by a special service, raise money for preserving the church of its fathers. So much inspiration came from this meeting, over which there seemed to preside the spirit of the great preacher, that there came a desire for an annual pilgrimage to this little shrine among the hills of Worthington. This will probably be held on the last Sunday in August, as that was the day on which Dr. Conwell, in his later years, held his service there, a service which drew hundreds of enthusiastic admirers from miles around.

Mrs. Cynthia L. Tower

March 21.—Mrs. Cynthia L. Tower, aged 71, died at her home this morning after a week's illness with bronchitis. No alarm was felt about her until about midnight and death came at about two o'clock this morning. Mrs. Tower was born in Worthington Sept. 7, 1856, the daughter of Walter S. and Henrietta Harrington Allen, in the house now owned by James Corbett. On Jan. 19, 1876, she married Henry L. Tower. Besides her husband she leaves three children, Walter H., at home, Herbert L. of Springfield, and Cullen B. of Thompsonville, Ct., and five grandchildren, Dorothy, Edith, Madison and Elizabeth and Mrs. Ralph Curley of Springfield. Mrs.

Tower was a woman of frail health, but mentally alert, with a keen memory of olden times, of which she loved to tell. Although a shut in most of the time, she kept in touch with all her friends and will be greatly missed. The funeral will be held at the home Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the Rev. James H. Burckes officiating. Burial will be in the North cemetery.

Fifteen Cars Stuck in Mud

We are told that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link. Is a road no better than its poorest spot? Fifteen cars stuck fast in the mud yesterday in a short stretch of road near the Bartlett homestead at the Corners. The need of a few rods of state road to connect two state roads, needs no further emphasis.

Worthington

WORTHINGTON, July 27--A group of Worthington people went to West Pelham yesterday afternoon, at the invitation of Miss Bessie E. Trow of Bedford Lodge, Northampton, for a picnic supper at her country place "Wish Kumtru." Miss Trow is a former resident of Worthington. The invitation was general to all the people of the town but a perfect day for a picnic was also a perfect day for haying which kept many at home. A few years ago Miss Trow and Miss Laura S. Clark bought the place—an abandoned home, and transformed it into an ideal place, restoring the old-fashioned house and developing the three acres of land into a place of beauty. After wandering through the house and grounds, groups gathered to chat and there were cards for those who wished. A buffet picnic lunch was served on the lawn to 48 people.

Francis Robinson of Worthington, associate medical examiner of the 2d Hampshire district, vice, Neil C. Matzek, resigned.

WORTHINGTON

Plans for Annual Fair

Worthington, Aug. 9—The Women's Benevolent society will hold its annual fair on the church common Wednesday afternoon at 3. There will be the usual attractions for old and young, home-made aprons and rag rugs, fancy work, a table of home food, candy and ice cream, a rummage table, also toys and balloons for the children. A novelty for this year's sale will be a pitcher table. The pitchers represent a collection given by many friends in many states. At 4 o'clock two quilts made during the winter by society members will be auctioned off. A large doll dressed by a Springfield friend will be sold during the afternoon. If the weather is such that it is impossible to hold the fair on Wednesday it will be held two days later, on Friday, Thursday being the date for the Highland Congregational club meeting at Cummington.

April 20.—One of the prettiest of spring weddings and one of much local interest took place this morning at 10 o'clock at St. James' church in South Deerfield, when Miss Catherine Margaret Ryan of this town and Springfield, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ryan, became the bride of Lawrence Henry Shoughrue of 14 Rencelau street, Springfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shoughrue. Rev. P. Joseph Martin performed the ceremony, using the single ring service. John Dwyer, the church organist, played the wedding marches from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn and Miss Lena Laconti of Springfield, soloist, sang Gounod's "Ave Maria," and "O Salutaris," by Wiegand. Mrs. Lawrence Robinson of Greenfield, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Eleanor J. Shoughrue, of Springfield, maid-of-honor, the bridesmaids being Mrs. Forest D. Weatherholt of New York, and Mrs. Samuel C. Bulser of Philadelphia. Wilson F. Shoughrue of Springfield served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Lawrence Robinson of Greenfield, Joseph H. Ryan of Winchester, Donald Ferguson and Norman L. Snow of Springfield. The bride was charming in a beautiful gown of ivory satin, fashioned in period style, and her veil of tulle in Madonna arrangement was most becoming. She carried a very handsome bride's prayer book of white calfskin, with markers of narrow satin ribbon cascading from it, clustered at intervals with lilies-of-the-valley. All the attendants wore frocks of chiffon, cut with circular skirts and irregular hem-lines, in shades of pastel colors, the matron-of-honor, yellow; maid of honor, orchid; bridesmaids, blue and pink, each wearing horse-hair picture hats and shoes to match each gown. Their flowers were arm bouquets of spring flowers. The mother of the bride wore middy blue crepe with hat to match and the bridegroom's mother, blue lace with harmonizing hat, both wearing bouquets of sweet peas and roses. The church decorations consisted of palms and lilies. There were 150 guests at the wedding and 55 including the immediate families and intimate friends attended the wedding breakfast immediately following the church service given at Hotel Warren, which was also prettily decorated with palms and spring flowers. A reception was held this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents in this town, after which the bridal couple left for a wedding trip, Mrs. Shoughrue wearing a green print dress, gray brushed wool coat with natural wolf fur, green Balsus hat, green snake-skin shoes and bag to harmonize. After June 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Shoughrue will be at home at 70 Belmont avenue, Springfield. The bride was born in this town, is a graduate of Deerfield academy, household arts department of Smith's school, at Northampton, and has been with the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company of Springfield several years. The bridegroom was born in Springfield, educated there and at Syracuse university, Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and member of University club, and is employed at Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company at Springfield. Wedding guests present were from New York, Philadelphia, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, Brookline, Winchester, Plymouth, Springfield, Greenfield, Westfield, Northampton, and surrounding towns. The couple received many valuable and beautiful gifts.
