WORTHINGTON —

Worthington Grange No. 90 met at the Town Hall on Tuesday night with 22 members and 14 visitors attending. In the absence of Master Edward Drosehn, Overseer Florida Granger presided.

Community service committee Chairman Leah Mollison asked for gifts for the Massachusetts State Grange gift shop, proceeds from which will be used to maintain the Grange building at Eastern States Exposition grounds. She reminded members that canned food for a food basket should be brought to the next meeting. This will be awarded in conjunction with a food sale to be held on May 24 for the benefit of Hampshire County Hospital.

It was voted to give $5 to Care, $2 to the Massachusetts State Grange Building Fund and $2 to the Grange Library Fund.

The Fair Exhibit committee will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mollison at 7:30 p.m. on May 7. The Grange is invited to meet with Plainfield Grange on May 6.

The speaker of the evening was Cindy Mitchell of Hinsdale, State Grange Outstanding Girl of 1975. She spoke of the importance of living each day to the best of one's ability, rather than occasional spectacular performances. Games were played and refreshments served.

The last sugar eat of the season will be held at Fred Tirrell's Village Barn in Plainfield Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m. Quarts of maple syrup will be for sale, which have been donated by Kenneth Skinner of East Bridgewater, assistant steward of the Massachusetts State Grange.
